

Self-Transformative Life?

Lukács and the Critique of Capitalism

Thursday, April 22nd, 2021

1:00 – 1:15: Introduction

1:15 – 1:45: Csaba Olay (Eötvös Loránd University Budapest):

Lukács' Early Conception of Reification in the Light of Recent Interpretations

1:45 – 2:15: Timothy Bewes (Brown University):

Notes for a Hypothetical Theory of the Novel

2:15 – 2:30: Eva Geulen (HU Berlin) (comment)

2:30 – 3:00: Discussion

(30 min break)

3:30 – 4:00: Patrick Eiden-Offe (University of Illinois Chicago):

Revolution as a Way of Life: On the Experiment of Writing Lukács' Life

4:00 – 4:30: Arthur Bueno (Goethe University Frankfurt):

The Experience of the Crisis: Reification and Emancipation as Life-Processes

4:30 – 5:00: Discussion

(30 min break)

5:30 – 6:00: Alberto Toscano (Goldsmiths, University of London):

Life, Tragedy & Justice

6:00 – 6:30: Konstantinos Kavoulakos (University of Thessaloniki):

Georg Lukács' Early Critique of Everyday Life and his Theory of Reification

6:30 – 7:00: Discussion

Organized by Arthur Bueno (Frankfurt) & Simon Gurisch (Frankfurt)

Event via Zoom / Please register: lukacs.frankfurt2021@gmail.com

Funded by

NORMATIVE ORDERS

Forschungsverbund der Goethe-Universität Frankfurt am Main

